The Fort Langley Artists Group (FLAG) is a collection of artists dedicated to their own art and to the promotion of the arts in their community. Visual media represented among the group members includes watercolours, oils, acrylics, pastel, drawing, clay, sculpture, mixed media, jewellery, photography and others. Subject matter and styles vary from contemporary to classical, from landscape, to still life, to abstract, to portraiture and beyond. FLAG members meet throughout the year to share support and inspiration, and the artists exhibit their work in the Flagstop Gallery in Fort Langley from mid-May to Labour Day. All work displayed in the gallery is original and locally made.

For information about the group and the artists, including contact information for the individual members, visit the FLAG website:
